NORRIS URGES ARMY STUDY OF MUSTARD GASES

PREDICTION MADE THAT POISON IS TO BE USED.

CRITICISES PROPAGANDA

Sentiment Against Use Of Gas In Warfare Discussed In Address.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 24.—Asserting that chemical warfare will be essential in future conflicts, Doctor James Norris, President of the American Chemical Society, speaking before the Institute of Politics today criticized the sentimental propaganda against the use of poison gas and other chemicals.

He predicted the next war will begin where the last left off, and that mustard gas will be used at the start. He urged that the army be allowed to study and develop this type of warfare.

"BOY BANDIT" IS NEAR TO DEATH IN A HOSPITAL

PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 24.—Still fighting for life, Leslie Gonce, 14 year old bandit, was reported by attending physicians at Parkview hospital today to be weaker.

None of the four bullets in the boy's body have been removed, as physicians feared if an attempt was made, it would cause immediate death.

The youth was shot last Friday by Sheriff Frank Thomas and his deputy C. L. Fisk, when they arrested him on a Pueblo street.

TRAFFIC MARKERS ARE TO BE PUT OUT

SIDEWALK GOSSIP

"I have been raising watermelons a long, long time," said Charley Rouak, prominent farmer from the western portion of the county, "but this season's melons are being sold at the greatest sacrifice of any I have yet marketed. The crop this year is unusually good, and as I bring my melons to market, I find Bill Jones and Harry Brown here with a big load just ahead of me. What the farmer needs is a market for his stuff, but I don't know how it's going to be arranged."

Jimmy Allred of Wichita Falls made a lengthy speech on the courthouse lawn last night, though he was not favored with a big audience. Jimmy is the young man opposing Claude Pollard for attorney general. He said he had been making three speeches a day in the interest of his candidacy, but without the appearance to be fresh and untired.

Millions Pay Tribute As Valentino's Body Is Held in New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Just beyond the theatrical district where the White Way fades out and Broadway becomes a street of commerce, the body of Rudolph Valentino rested today, to receive tribute of millions.

Yesterday the young Italian, who started life as a gardener, and although he lived but 31 years, became one of the great motion picture idols of all times, died at a hospital here.

Hardly had the doctors pronounced him dead that the tribute to his memory began. All night long cables came in from far parts of the world; telegrams brought other messages, but perhaps the greatest tribute was from the crowds which formed around the funeral parlors where the body was held clamoring for one last look upon the dead.

The place of his final burial remains undetermined. His body may be sent back to the little town of Castellaneta, Italy, or it may be sent out to Hollywood and there remain through the years in a splendid tomb beside some of the other great of filmdom.

Crowds Rush Undertakers NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A crowd of nearly 500 gathered in front of the undertaking establishment where Rudolph Valentino's body lies, got beyond control of three policemen shortly before noon today, and rushed the doors.

After a struggle, the police managed to get the doors closed, and sent a hurry call for reinforcements.

Public Views Corpses

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The public today was given its chance to pay tribute to the memory of Rudolph Valentino, motion picture actor who died yesterday.

After a crowd which began forming at 9 a. m. had grown to over 3,000, and had gone so far beyond police control that a window in the undertaking parlor where Valentino's body rested was broken, those in charge threw open the doors an hour before the appointed time.

Several had been injured in the milling crowd, others had fainted, and severe disorders were feared.

Not long after the line was formed, a portion of the crowd made a charge against the window previously broken, to attempt an entrance. Police mounted on their charges, rode in front of the window to protect it against further assault.

Meanwhile a rain had become a steady downpour, and men, women and children were soaked to the skin as they fought to get into the building.

WAY LEFT OPEN FOR PEACE IN RELIGIOUS WAR

DEADLOCK IS APPARENT IN STATE AND CHURCH CONTROVERSY.

HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT

Same Status Exists As Before Conference Between Calles And Churchmen.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 24.—Although a deadlock has again been reached in the controversy between the Roman Catholic church and the Mexican government over the new religious regulations, hope still exists in some quarters that all doors to a settlement has not been closed.

This hope is more or less based on the statement issued by catholic churchmen as a supplement to its declaration of yesterday that the situation has reverted to the same status as before the conference Saturday between President Calles and himself.

The statement referred to a possibility of a future settlement, and is construed as intended to leave the way open for conferences with the president, if developments should justify them.

PLAN ADDITIONAL 3-CENT TAX FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Request Made To City Commission By School Superintendent.

An additional three cents will be added to the tax rate of the city for the ensuing year on request of officials of the city schools if the plans under consideration of the City Commission are carried out.

The Commission this afternoon discussed the proposal submitted originally by Professor E. C. Doerflinger, superintendent of schools. Officials of the board of education will be requested to present to the commissions its full list of reasons for placing the additional three cents on the rate.

A special levy of 45 cents for school purposes was voted a number of years ago, although only 32 cents of this has been collected in the past. The unusually low school apportionment allowed this year by the State Board of Education will make it necessary for the schools to obtain as much revenue as possible. The three cents will raise about $2,700, it was said.

Individual members of the Commission favor granting the request, but they wish to have the school board members act officially in the matter, it was pointed out.

If the request is granted the city tax rate will be $2.11 for the ensuing year. The present rate is $1.96. Twelve cents additional is necessary to create interest and sinking fund for the bond issues voted in the spring.

Woman Killed In Car Wreck Near Waskom

One woman was killed, another and her child were injured shortly after noon today in an automobile accident on the Jefferson Highway about one mile west of Waskom.

The dead woman is said to be Miss Reiner of Cedar Grove, Louisiana. The injured are her relatives. They are not seriously hurt.

The car in which the party was driving to Marshall skidded off the edge of the road and turned over twice as it went down a seven-foot embankment. Miss Reiner was crushed as the car turned over. She died about seven minutes after the accident.

No information concerning the accident had been received by local hospitals and officers. It is believed the wreck victims were taken back to Shreveport.

ENTIRE FAMILY IS KILLED TO AVENGE AN ALLEGED PLOT

APARRI, Luzon, Philippine Islands, Aug. 24.—Accused of exterminating an entire family to avenge an alleged plot, eighteen persons, including several municipal officials, have been arrested at Gattaran. When Manuel Jose, president of the village, became ill suddenly, he was taken to the hospital. He called a group of relatives together, and offered a large reward for the complete extermination of the suspected family, officials say.

Eighteen members of the Magal family were slain with bolo knives, and prosecuting officials say that a member of Jose's relatives are implicated.

John Schmidt who yesterday killed his thirteen year old step daughter with an axe and seriously wounded his wife was captured today near Rhinehart, the scene of the crime.

POLLARD DENIES ALLRED'S CHARGE OF BREAKING WORD

Candidate For Attorney General Replies To Alleged Promise To Brachfield.

Statement of facts relating to my candidacy and that of Judge Chas. L. Brachfield for Attorney General:

It was generally understood during the last weeks of March that I was considering making the race for Attorney General, and several daily press items carried the statement that I was.

Early in April, Judge Brachfield had a meeting in Dallas, with Senator Q. U. Watson and Senator McDonald Meachum.

On the return of Senator Watson from Dallas he sent for Mr. Myers to come to his office and told him that he had seen his friend Senator Brachfield in Dallas the day before and that he was a candidate for Attorney General. Mr. Myers stated that he was sorry because he thought I was going to be a candidate. Brachfield replied that he was very sorry because he was already in the race to stay.

The following week, Senator Brachfield was in Austin with Senator Watson and announced in the press at Austin as a candidate for Attorney General.

On the 12th of April there appeared in the Austin paper an item in regard to Brachfield's entrance into the race as the sixth candidate for Attorney General—the item in the paper stating that his candidacy was urged upon him by close friends of the administration, among whom was "former Senator Q. U. Watson." It further said "efforts to bring former Senator Brachfield into the race were said to be a strict pro-Ferguson vote." I have this clipping.

On the 12th day of April, Senator Brachfield was in Houston. On this date there appeared in the Houston Chronicle at half column notice of his candidacy for Attorney General, with heavy headlines "BRACHFIELD IS CANDIDATE FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL." I have the clipping from the Houston Chronicle before me as I dictate this.

He never came to my office. Some two weeks after this he was again in Houston, and there was another item in the Houston papers containing a write-up of a luncheon given him at the Houston Club by his friends who were supporting him for Attorney General. He never came to my office during this trip. Some days after The jurors have deliberated more than 33 hours on the fate of W. K. Hale and John Ramsey, on trial charged with murdering Henry Roan Horse, Osage Indian. Rumors of a deadlock have become more persistent as the hours filed by without a word from the jury room.

TWO ARMY PLANES SEEK FLYER LOST SINCE YESTERDAY

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., Aug. 24.—Two army pursuit planes were to leave Selfridge Field here this afternoon in search of Lieutenant Cyrus Bettis, holder of the coveted Pulitzer race trophy, who has been missing since he became lost in a fog near Bellefonte, Pennsylvania, in a P-1 pursuit biplane yesterday.

Pilots of the two planes leaving here are Lieutenant J. J. Williams, and Lieutenant L. S. Smith, who left Philadelphia with Bettis Saturday morning after flying in conjunction with the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition since June 1.

"Bettis, Smith and I left Philadelphia to fly to Selfridge Field," Lieutenant Williams told the United Press shortly before his scheduled flight. "We encountered a heavy fog over Bellefonte, Smith going to Clearfield, and I to Middletown."

"On turning back, we lost our contract with Bettis, and have not heard from him since. We returned to Selfridge independently in the afternoon."

For the first three years of Davis Cup competition, in 1900, 1902 and 1903, the play was con- ducted so teams representing the British Isles and America, but since that time the gradual in- crease in the number of competing nations each season may be said to have kept step with the develop- ment of lawn tennis to its present commanding position in the inter- national sport field.

The reason the enrollment in the city schools last year was less than the year before was that children under school age were not taken last year, said Prof. E. C. Deering, superintendent of schools.

The enrollment in the schools last year was about 4,500, Mr. Deering said. The scholastic population of Marshall is about 5,000. Under the compulsory attendance law all children of school age are required to attend unless good reason is provided. The school superintendents act as truant officer, reporting cases of violation of the law to the grand jury. The same is true in the county where the county superintendent is truant officer.

Hopes of the College of Marshall

several days ago en route to Waco.
He has been attending the coaching school in Austin.

WOMEN BRAVER FLYERS THAN MEN AVIATORS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 24.—Professional aviators around Los Angeles are agreed that women are less afraid of the air than men. The "why" they cannot give but a canvas of several commercial aviation fields disclosed many stock excuses that men offer to cover up a reluctance to take some business or pleasure trips in an airplane.

"I'll have to see about my insurance first," led all other excuses in popularity.

It was found that women seldom turned down a chance to fly. They say nothing about insurance, seldom refer to their obligations to family, and rarely suggest they will have to talk to their husbands about it.

The town of Gaylord, Kansas, boasting a population of scarcely 350, is probably the smallest town in America having a public golf course.

DO MISSIONS PAY?

Come and see for yourself what is actually being done for those who have been in darkness. Missionary J. S. Yates, of the South Sea Islands, will give a fine travelogue in moving picture entertainment at

I. O. O. F. Hall Wednesday

August 25th, at 8 p. m.

Speaking of Mission work, Mr. Yates said from these islands comes a mighty challenge to Christianity, there shrinking babies are cruelly treated as the tribal tattoo is cut into their skin, the little girls are carried away to be the second, fourth or tenth wife. There human heads are still hunted as a pastime, and teeth are filed for cannibal conveniences.

ALLIED REPLIES TO FERGUSON CRITICISM IN ADDRESS HERE

James V. Allred, of Wichita Falls, candidate for Attorney General in the second primary, made a campaign speech on the courthouse lawn Monday night.

In the course of his remarks Mr. Allred replied to the criticism recently made of him by James E. Ferguson in the Ferguson Forum. He also referred to the criticism of Claude Pollard, his opponent, who charged him with being ungrateful to Ferguson. He charged Pollard with being the Ferguson candidate for Attorney General, and produced a dummy ballot which he said was distributed in Galveston County by Ferguson adherents, and which had the name of Pollard unscratched.

Allred gave a challenge to Pollard to meet him in debate at Cisco next Thursday night following the address of Dan Moody. Allred told of his record in prosecuting former Mayor Frank Collier of Wichita Falls in the notorious shooting case, for which Collier is now serving a three-year term in the penitentiary.

Allred said that Pollard should be the last man in Texas to talk about any one being ungrateful to Jim Ferguson. He said that Pollard had courted Ferguson's support all along by remaining silent, and then when Ferguson gave him his open support he had been ungrateful for it.

"Out Our Way"

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTER

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Fla., Aug. 23. Florida's real estate boom was quite a worry to the federal government. Officials were afraid a good deal of wildcatting was going on. They kept a very sharp eye on that boom.

Now it transpires that the government itself well advantage of the boom to sell an entire Florida town, site which, according to the federal report at Jacksonville, didn't belong to it.

FIFTY years ago an executive officer assigned a stretch of government-owned ocean frontage near the present site of Miami Beach to the coast guard.

Much later it was decided the coast guard needed nothing like so much room, so in 1921 another executive order restored to public domain Lewis G. Norton, who had a job in the Dade County assessor's office and knew about land in the neighborhood, decided to homestead this tract, since it seemed to be open to settlement.

It was only estimated as worth $20 to $30 an acre then, but even that looked good to Norton. He wanted the 40 acres, he was clearing it built him a "chuck and applied for a patent."

THE general land office said Norton had decided to name the place the "Harding Township," cut it up into city lots and sell it at auction one lot at the big sale on January 1924, brought $18,000. The whole lot was sold for something more than $400,000.

NORTON was kicking like every thing he was still on the ground--he was--and his presence was an embarrassment. So it was considered best to evict Norton in due legal form. A few weeks before Judge Jones of the federal judicial district of Southern Florida, Judge Joyce (as he is called) "Horton's" later ordering him to leave and holding that he ought to have his patent.

A South African company is engaged in the manufacture of fertilizers, poultry feeds, and oils for airplane engines, from locusts.

Strangler.

Phillip H. Brown is under arrest at San Bernardino, Calif., accused of one of the most amazing string of crimes in the state's history. He has admitted strangling half a dozen women and is believed responsible for a dozen more unsolved killings. Police are trying to learn whether he is responsible for the murder of Sylvia Gaines in Seattle, for which crime the girl's father is now on trial.

NEW REMEDY RIDS HOUSE OF ALL FLIES

It has been estimated that not less than 75,000 infants lost their lives in one year due to diseases transmitted by flies. Flies are known carriers of typhoid, dysentery, tuberculosis and a score of other diseases that menace the health and threaten the lives of humanity.

Milk is the principal food of infants and children, expectant and nursing mothers, invalids, and convalescents. Impure milk would transmit disease to those least able to withstand its attacks. A little over three years ago the Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) became aware of the need for producing an insecticide that could be safely used for destruction of flies and other insects. Over 300 experiments with more than 70 different formulas were performed by expert chemists and entomologists on the various types of household insects.

The results of this work which certainly involved a more painstaking and thorough investigation of the subject than any hitherto undertaken, led to their placing of the market in 1923, a product for the destruction of flies and other insects under the name of "Flit."

Flit is a clear liquid that when sprayed upward into the air in a sufficient volume kills all the flies in a room in 3 to 5 minutes. The flies drop to the floor and die. Wherever possible, doors and windows should be kept closed while Flit is being sprayed. It is not necessary nor indeed effective to spray the individual fly. Merely fill the room with the spray--Flit will do the rest.

Long before the English Channel was crossed for the first time by a swimmer--Captain Webb, in 1875--champions of many lands had pitted their skill and power of endurance against the Channel gods. So many failures had been recorded, in fact, that the feat was generally considered to be beyond human strength and stamina.

MAP SHOWING RESULTS OF FIRST PRIMARY ELECTION

Dan Moody, candidate for governor, had either a majority or a plurality of the votes cast in the primary on July 24 in 185 counties, which are shown on this map in white. Governor Ferguson had a majority or plurality in 58 counties, shown on the map in solid black. Davidson had a plurality in four counties and a majority in two, and these six counties are shaded on the map.

Moody's headquarters at Austin, after analyzing the returns shown on this map predicts that Moody will carry not less than 216 counties in the run-off primary on August 28. Commenting on this map, Steve Plunkney of the Moody headquarters said:

"This map shows at a glance how ridiculous is the claim that any faction was responsible for Moody's record-breaking vote on July 24. People of all factions and all sections of the state voted for him. The result in the second primary will prove this even more emphatically, for we are confident that Moody will carry at least 27 counties in which Ferguson received a plurality of the vote in the first primary. Moreover, he will receive a majority of the vote cast in most of the counties in which he had only a plurality in the first primary. Moody's majority over Governor Ferguson will be at least twice as much as his lead over her in the first primary."

CAREY AND PALS WISH LUCK TO THE PIRATES

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24.—Max Carey claimed by Brooklyn after waivers had been asked by the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Carson Bigbee and Babe Adams, given unconditional releases, wish the Pirates all the success to be had and that they may finish on top.

This expression was contained in a statement by the three players, who were expelled from the club two weeks ago following charges that they had sponsored a movement to have Manager Fred Clarke ousted from the players' bench.

The players have been exonerated by President John Heydler of the National league as "having acted without maliciousness."

Explaining why a promised statement giving their side of the controversy has not been forthcoming, was a desire to further the interests of the Pirates, inasmuch as every obstacle should be removed from their path in order that winning this year's pennant would be more certain.

"We still retain this desire, and will not at this time attempt to do that which we tried to prevent."

The first baseball league was organized in New York in 1857.

MEMBERS OF BAR ENDORSE POLLARD

We, the members of the Marshall Bar, having for many years known, associated with and practiced with Honorable Claude Pollard of Houston, unqualifiedly endorse him for the position of Attorney General of Texas. We know him in his early manhood while he was District Attorney of this, the 4th Judicial District, and have followed his successful career as Assistant Attorney General of our State, and since that time as an able practitioner before the courts of Texas. We feel that his experience in the enforcement of the criminal laws where he was found to be ever zealous, his knowledge and experience gained in the Attorney General's office which has ripened as the years have gone by, eminently qualify him for this position. We believe his administration will be, as his past life has been, efficient, honest and fair, overshadowed with democracy and permeated with the golden rule. We heartily commend him to the voters of Texas.

NORWEGIAN SHIP CLOSES ITS LOG AT PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Captain Gerhard Uolger closed the log of the Leif Ericson Sunday when he wrote:

"August 22.—Reached Philadelphia navy yard. Raining."

Thus he ended the saga of the four gallant Norwegian seamen who left Bergen, Norway, May 17 to follow the trail of the first vikings to America 900 years ago.

"Eric the Red" and his helmed Norsemen could have looked no braver than the men aboard the 42-foot Leif Ericson as it came up the Delaware in tow of a tug that had sighted her off Delaware City. The tug had gone down the river with a delegation of city officials and representative Norwegians. A stiff tide was running and they gave the stubby little ship a tow line and brought her to the navy yard. The four-hour tow upstream was triumphant. Sirens rasped a welcome and the Leif Ericson proceeded up the river. Photographers and movie picture cameramen viewed the little vessel at the navy yard.

Captain Fielding of the naval yard extended a welcome, as did Dr. R. T. Davis representing Mayor Kendrick, Lieut. A. E. Brown of the Third Company of Marines and others.

Captain Folger asserted he had had his fill of the course of vikings, but in the next breath he added that he might return that way home.

For three weeks he and his men had disappeared of getting to land in the ice fields, and icebergs sometimes toppled over them. At last they reached St. John, New Foundland.

After that there were 20 days of storm and ice and foggy weather, or, fog and angry seas. There was more rough weather down

Every time a marriage license is issued; every time a child is born; every time a salary is raised; every time a home is bought—a new customer is created for goods he never bought before. The New Father Buys Many Things!

AN EVENT in this man's family caused him to buy a box of cigars and pass them around. And this is just the beginning of new needs. Hardly a week will pass that these parents will not have to buy some goods they never bought before.

How will they make their decisions on what to buy and where to buy it?

Largely on the basis of printing.

We are able to live, to grow, to meet emergencies and cope with new situations because of what we learn and have learned from booklets or other printed pieces.

That most of this printing is advertising makes no difference.

The American people have accepted advertising as the right and economical method of learning how to live and how to buy.

We buy our foods, clothe ourselves and our children, furnish our homes and care for our possessions from advice and information supplied by business men and made available by printers.

We travel, we cook, we select schools and make our wills by advice that comes from the printing press in the form of advertising books and booklets.

So true is this that you can hardly name a great business in America without naming a great buyer of printing.

And if you are in a business that you wish to see grow, remember that business growth without the use of printing is like travel without the use of mechanical power—possible maybe, but painfully slow.

If your business deserves to grow, if your goods deserve to be sold, it is very hard to use too much printing. The bigger the business, the better this fact is understood.

If It's Printing---That's Our Job!

FAMOUS STREET OF RILEY'S DAY DOOMED TO NOISE

New Cheap Boarding Houses
Crowd Street As Memorial
Is Weatherbeaten.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 24.—
"Such a dear little street it is nestled away
"From the noise of the city and the heat of the day."
But the Lockerbie street James Whitcomb Riley wrote about 39 years ago no longer is nestled away from the noise of the city. And "The cool shady corners of whispering trees,
"With their leaves lifted up to shake hands with the breeze," have disappeared as the city's residential line receded leaving Lockerbie street within a dilapidated downtown district.

New Cheap Boarding Houses
To Riley the Lockerbie street residence of Major and Mrs. Chas.
L. Holstein was home for more than thirty years. There he wrote his "Afterglow," "Songs of Childhood," and others. And there in 1916 he died. But before Riley died the street was being given over to cheap rooming houses, and the oak and maple shade trees were being leveled.

Memorial Is Weatherbeaten
The Holstein home now is a Riley memorial and the desk and other mementoes of the poet's occupancy still remain. Time and the elements have seared their marks across the old, aristocratic, two-story brick structure, that like Riley's battered "stovepipe" hat, hanging within its walls, is of the past. Its shabby neighbors belie
the poet's words:

"Which in its wide wanderings never they meet.
"With a resting place fairer than Lockerbie street."

The tourists seeking the Riley home finds Lockerbie only a block long, not far from the business district. The pavement has been neglected and now is rough and broken.
Soot has stained every building and the few trees that remain are a pathetic reminder to those who know Lockerbie street when Riley immortalized it in poetry.

So This Is The Way Red Grange Trains!

There are football games and football games, and all kinds have their charm. Mr. Harold Grange, sometimes called "Red," is a hard man to stop; and these girls apparently have decided that brute strength is the only way. However, Grange doesn't seem to mind much. The picture was taken at Chicago, and Red's teammates, or whatever you'd call 'em, are dancers at a Chicago theater.

Won't Rouge.

Here we have "Miss Australia," otherwise known as Miss Beryl Mills, shown as she arrived in San Francisco for a tour of this country. She won't use rouge or lipstick, but believes face powder is all right. And she can dance the Charleston but she won't.

NATIVES OF WORLD'S NORTHERNMOST VILLAGE CONTENTED IN THE COLD

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, Aug. 24.—Hardy residents of these islands, only 800 miles from the North Pole, laugh when strangers speak of Spitzbergen as the rim of the earth. To them the real "old north" is many miles further on, among the nameless settlements near Point Morris Jessup, Greenland. There people among the strangest in the world live in primitive conditions known nowhere else in the world.

Commander Byrd, before his flight to the Pole, planned to establish his base among these Eskimos, who number two or three hundred. He may go there in the summer of 1927. If so, he will find them as Peary left them years ago—dirty, hospitable and profoundly content. Peary was the first man really to become acquainted with them and live to bring back the story. His ship wintered several times at Point Morris Jessup, and some of the natives accompanied him to the United States.

Mrs. Peary also took along a girl Eskimauk, who was called "Bill" and exposed for a while to all the advantages of civilization.

The Peary Eskimos pined for their igloos and frozen walrus meat, and went home. Two of them became prominent in the tribe merely by reason of the tall stories they told. They were eclipsed by one Samik, however, who became a plutocrat when Peary gave him a wooden rowboat in which to fish.

Through his wealth, Samik won the hand of "Bill," who after her study abroad was regarded as the tribe's choicest peach.

As the stories here go, Mrs. Samik proved a good wife, unspoiled by her sojourn in the southlands. The last traveler to see her said she had forgotten all her civilized ways and was no more squeamish about what went into the stew than any of her sisters, who had not had the advantages of a fishing trip abroad.

Nowadays the only knowledge the tribe has of the outside world is when a chance explorer or Scottish whaler happens to come near enough for a kajak-man to row out and trade some blue fox skins, or when a very infrequent Danish trading agent comes.

They drink nothing stronger than ice water. Their sense of humor is pronounced, though few of their stories are fit for print. Discomfited travelers who have overbalanced a kajak and got thoroughly, icily wet, have found that a whole camp would roll over with laughter instead of coming to fish them out.

APPROVE PLANS OF NEW CITY BUILDING

With the approval of the tentative plans for the new city hall building by the city commission Monday night, preparation of the final plans and specifications will be started at once by L. C. Page, architect, of Austin.

The tentative plans were submitted to the commission and the various features of the structure explained. Reinforced concrete and brick and stone will be used in the building. It will be three stories high, with an auditorium seating 900. The city hall will cost $125,000.

Inspection of the proposed site for a fire station was made this morning by Mayor Owens, L. C. Page, and Fire Chief Sam Lindsay with a view to drawing plans for this building. The fire station will cost $25,000.

An ounce of tomato seed will produce 1500 ounces of seed, or 3,000,000 tons of tomatoes.

HIGHER PRICE TO BE PAID FOR MILK IN SHREVEPORT

The demand for milk from this county is so heavy in Shreveport the purchase price will be raised to 80 cents a pound on the butter fat basis, Dr. A. W. Dunn announced today.

Dr. Dunn was informed by the Campbell Ice Cream Company that the higher price will be effective September 1, and will rule until April 1, when it will be placed at the old price again. The milk is now being sold at 73 cents a pound on the butter fat basis.

A request that the supply be increased has been received by Dr. Dunn. About 200 gallons a day now are being sent by truck to Shreveport. The milk is sold retail in Shreveport. The purchaser operates ten delivery trucks, as well as manufacturing ice cream.

"The milk from this county is giving satisfaction," said Dr. Dunn. "They want all they can get. It is a good thing for the dairymen of the county and they should take advantage of the opportunity. It is not merely a temporary proposition, but is good for the year around."

Dr. Dunn asked that all dairymen having milk to sell notify him so arrangements for handling it can be made.

NO CONFIRMATION OF A "FORD SIX"

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 24.—Rumors which have been going the rounds for several months to the effect that the Ford Motor Company were intending offering a six cylinder car—lacked any confirmation here today.

While officials of the company denied to either confirm or deny such report, it was observed that Henry Ford on his 61st birthday recently disowned the idea.

"There is nothing to it," the automobile manufacturer told the United Press.

130,000 TICKETS FOR FIGHT ARE ORDERED

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Orders for 130,000 tickets for the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship bout September 23, have been placed with the printers and it is expected that they will be placed on sale before the end of the week. The advance sale exceeds $200,000.

Although Dempsey is understood to have decided on finishing his training at Atlantic City, exposition officials are hoping they can persuade him to establish his camp here. Tunney's new camp site has not yet been announced.

Dempsey, Tex Rickard, promoter of the fight, and Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, had engagements Monday as guests of Mayor Kendrick and exposition officials.

James J. Corbett, former world's heavyweight champion, is due Tuesday. Corbett asserts he has the first claim to use the stadium for a fight in which Dempsey would be one of the principals, and he is contemplating proceedings for an injunction.

Moody Ignorant of Reputed Plan to Locate Prison in Williamson Co.

Houston, Aug. 23.—The "wail of a bad loser" was the phrase used by Attorney General Dan Moody to describe former Governor Jas. E. Ferguson's Temple speech in replying to it before an immense audience at Hermann Park here tonight. Moody replied to what he called "Ferguson's three latest clap-net charges," enumerating them as the charge of fraud in the election, the charge of Ku Klux control and the advocacy of a three-cent gasoline tax. Moody called attention to a statement published in the afternoon newspapers in which Governor Ferguson charged that a plan was on foot to relocate the penitentiary system in Williamson County.

TENTATIVE CITY HALL PLANS OK'D

Tentative plans for the new city hall building were approved and accepted last night by the city commissioners, and work on the new structure will be started after final specifications have been submitted and the contract awarded. The plans and design were presented to the Commissioners by L. C. Page, architect, of Austin, who announced the final plans would be ready within the next forty-five days.

Exterior of the new building a $125,000 structure will be made of brick and stone, while reinforced concrete will be used to construct the interior, making the building modern and fire proof. The proposed structure will be three stories in height, including the auditorium with a seating capacity of 1000, on the floor level with the street. Besides a foyer 16 by 24 feet a stage, 32 feet in length and dressing rooms, offices of the mayor and the city secretary will be located on the floor. Offices of the building inspector, council chamber, and the city attorney will be situated on the top floor, besides an unassigned office. On the lower floor will be the city jail, corporation court, police headquarters, offices of the plumbing and electrical departments, and the city food inspector, besides two large storerooms.

ONE DEAD IN RENEWAL OF GANG FEUDS

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Gangsters guns blazed again today, killing one and possibly fatally wounding another. Two men walked deliberately up to the automobile of Michael Blando, 30, restaurant owner, and fired a full magazine that killed him. His wife, in the front seat with him, was unhurt, but Joseph Varonolona, 19, in the rear seat, was shot in the left lung. He may die.

The trio had attended a Sicilian celebration and just gotten into the automobile when the attack occurred. The gunmen escaped.

Whether a Sicilian feud, the alcohol wars, or revenge for other killings lay behind the shooting, police were unable to determine.

James V. Allred, of Wichita Falls, candidate for Attorney General, stated a few minutes before his address here last night, that he and his opponent, Claude Pollard of Houston, had been invited by the Cisco Chamber of Commerce to a joint discussion of the issues in the Attorney General's race Thursday night, following a West Texas rally, and an address by Dan Moody Thursday afternoon. Allred stated that he had accepted the invitation, and had wired his opponent from Carthage, Pollard's old home town, challenging him to meet him Thursday night. Allred had a previous engagement at Corsicana, but stated that his brother Rene Allred, Jr., County Attorney-elect of Montague County would fill in.

ASKS DAN'S STAND

Austin, Aug. 23.—A new angle to the gubernatorial contest was added Monday when Governor Miriam A. Ferguson charged Attorney General Dan Moody with favoring the concentration of the prison system in Williamson County, Moody's home county.

She declared if re-elected, she would veto any proposal to relocate the prison system, just as she did the bill of the 39th Legislature providing for removal of the system to within seventy-five miles of the capital city. The Governor challenged Moody to state his position on the prison relocation. The Governor said she had "just been recently informed that all members of the Legislature from his home county, Williamson, are to present the bill to the Legislature against relying upon Mr. Moody to approve the bill if he is elected Governor."

Buck Versailles, France, Aug. 23.—M. Callizo, is reported to have broken the world's altitude record today, having reached a height of 12,800 meters. The record had stood at 12,000 meters, a mark made by the same aviator. Callizo took off at the altitude at 5 o'clock this afternoon and landed two hours and twenty-five minutes later.

Farmers Strong For Dry Moves

Paul Smith's N. Y., Aug. 23.—The farmers of the United States are "stronger than ever" for law enforcement, particularly the prohibition law, President Coolidge was told today by Louis Taber of Columbus, O., master of the national Grange, an organization having more than 800,000 members in 33 states. The Grange, Mr. Taber asserted, supports the efforts of Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant Secretary of the Treasury, in charge of prohibition enforcement, to enforce the eighteenth amendment. It is Mr. Taber's opinion that Mr. Andrews is "beginning to plug up the rat holes."

Is Charged With Murdering Gray

San Antonio, Aug. 23.—Pat Felt, living near Medina City, but confined in the Bexar County jail since Sunday, was charged with the murder of W. A. Gray here today. Gray, who lived here, was killed Sunday afternoon about two miles from Medina City and on the road to Banderas. Sheriff Henry Stevens of Banderas County said Gray evidently died from being stamped on the head with feet. Gray had driven a bus from San Antonio to Banderas for the last five years and has two brothers living there and a wife and two children in San Antonio.

Clemency Given Three By 'Ma'

Austin, Aug. 23.—One pardon, one furlough and an extension of furlough were announced Monday by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. The extension was to Charles Felker, convicted in Brazos County for misappropriation of public funds. The full pardon was granted R. B. Harper, sentenced one year on a liquor charge in Eastland County. A 20-day furlough was granted Alton Parker, offense and county not given.

Shades Of Night Fall Fast On 'Culurd Chile'

"Hey, boss! I've locked up in here! See can't yer get me outa here, will yer boss?" The above petition, accompanied by knocks on the door of the colored entrance to the Grand Theatre at about 11 o'clock last night, attracted the attention of a man passing by. The passerby came to the door of the News-Messenger office and reported his "find." "There's a fellow locked up in the theatre," says he went to sleep and was locked up," he reported. On assurance that a reporter would see that the prisoner was released, the passerby continued on his way. The reporter assured the negro that he would soon be released, and then called Col. H. A. Cole, manager of the Grand. Colonel Cole laughed when he was informed of the predicament of the negro.

BEGIN WORK ON TEXAS U BUILDINGS

Austin, Aug. 23.—With the approach of the fall term, the building program of Texas University is well under way.

Chief among the buildings which will be ready for occupancy in September is Garrison Hall, $350,000, three-story recitation and office building. Cattle brands of range kings of the past and present ornament the outer walls of this building, making it one of the most attractive and interesting buildings to be found on any campus.

University authorities stated the opening of this building will do much to relieve the pressure for additional classrooms.

The north section of the Texas University memorial stadium will be completed in time for the Thanksgiving Day football battle against the Texas Aggies. Completion of this section will give the stadium a seating capacity of 40,500 insuring for the Longhorn Aggie tilt the largest crowd that ever witnessed an athletic event in the South.

Four splendid tennis courts, with a small covered grandstand also will be available this fall. These are being erected within the stadium grounds, and the courts will be used for Southwest Conference matches in which the Longhorn racketeers compete.

Although not of the campus proper, the new $140,000 Presbyterian Education building, which will be completed this fall, will add to the appearance of university environs. It is located just half a block from the campus, and will be used for Bible study classes and Sunday school classes.

A number of other brick buildings are being constructed in the university neighborhood, among them a two-story building that will house the university postoffice, a moving picture theatre, a store, and a dancing studio.

The foundations of the $300,000 Littlefield dormitory for freshmen girls have been laid, but this building will not be completed until the fall of 1927.

It is to be known as the Alice Littlefield memorial dormitory, and its construction is made possible by a bequest of Major George Littlefield, Austin banker and Texas University regent, who named the building in honor of his wife.

BAPTIST CHURCH WILL BUILD $55,000 SUNDAY SCHOOL UNIT

Plans and specifications for the erection of a $55,000 addition to the First Baptist Church building have been completed, adopted and actual construction will begin soon, the Rev. S. H. Frazier, pastor of the church, said last night.

The addition will be constructed as a Sunday school unit and will be 66x105 feet in size, according to Rev. Frazier. Plans and architect's sketch of the new addition have been adopted by the church board.

The plans and specifications were submitted by Ferrand & Fitch, architects, of St. Louis who also have a branch office at Dallas, Mr. Frazier said.

EXPECTS THREE RINGS TO TELL KIVA SECRETS

Flagstaff, Ariz., Aug. 23.—The sciences of astronomy and botany are conspiring to release a secret locked in the decayed heart of an ancient Indian civilization in this region, for perhaps hundreds of years.

The secret is the date on which the Indian kivas (Hopi for "sacred chamber") were built, a fact to be learned through a study of solar activity and the growth of trees. Dr. E. A. Douglass, director of the Steward Observatory here and professor of astronomy at the University of Arizona, years ago began a study of the rings found in tree trunks with a view among other things, to determining the age of the kivas. To date he has found recorded in the trees "annual rings" a history of climatic changes over a period of five centuries. This chronicle tallies with astronomical observations of solar activity for the period.

His studies have taken him during the last twenty years to England, Norway, Sweden, Prussia, Austria, Bavaria and the states of Oregon, California and Arizona. His interest in pre-historic ruins was aroused by observation of the climatic conditions under which the yellow pine, common in the western Rockies, was growing.

Much of Doctor Douglass' work has been done in this vicinity because the limited twenty-two inches of rainfall assured many clear nights and superb skies for astronomical observations. The forest furnished a wealth of material for botanical studies. The critical problem of the tree was to survive periods of drought rather than to compete with other species of plant life in the struggle for existence, and the wax and wane of tree growth is chronicled in the size of the tree trunk rings.

The greatest drought in this region, Doctor Douglass finds, was from 1878 to 1880, and the tree rings held the record for more than three centuries before man discovered it. However, the biggest drought in the entire southwest occurred during the years 1720 to 1729.

By studying the biggest beams in the ruins of the old Indian ruins of this section, Doctor Douglass believes he will ascertain climatic conditions at the time they were built. Comparison of such data, coming from the same sources, will

Moody Rally Will Be Held at Longview

Longview, Aug. 23.—Supporters of Dan Moody in Gregg County anticipate a greater majority in the second primary and to arouse a greater interest a "Dan Moody for Governor" rally will be held at the courthouse in Longview, Thursday, August 26. Many voters from adjoining counties, and prominent speakers are invited to attend.

The Farmers' Improvement Colored Fair held in the Fredonia community, eight miles south of Longview, attended by large crowds, August 13-14. Prizes were awarded for farm and home work and the exhibits were declared to be the best ever made by negro farmers. A number of white farmers and business men of Longview attended the two day session.

Rev. John Berglund, of Marshall, is now assistant pastor of Kelly Memorial Methodist church in this city, who will make his home in Longview and have charge of all the work of the church until the return of the present pastor, Rev. J. Coy Williams, who will spend some time in the west in the interest of his health.

Rev. John L. Wharton, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Longview is conducting a revival meeting at Gladewater to continue two weeks.

Daniel Webster's campaign hat has been found. There are no holes to indicate it had ever been talked through.

Last Day to Get Voting Transfers

Attention to the fact that today is the last day in which voters who have moved from one precinct to another may get their transfers in order to vote in the second primary, Aug. 26, was last night called by Mrs. M. P. McGee, chairman of the Citizens Party.

Today is also the last day in which those who expect to be out of the county may cast absentee votes. All those who expect to cast absentee votes must file them with the county clerk today. Those wishing precept transfers should see the tax collector today.

WHEN you find a person, especially a child, who "doesn't like oats," chances are they haven't tried the right kind.

Get Quaker Oats. Once you taste "Quaker" flavor, you are spoiled for ordinary oats. That rich and tasty Quaker flavor is the result of some 50 years milling experience. No other oats approximate it.

Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. Thus those who eat Quaker Oats find laxatives seldom needed. Combines protein, carbohydrates, vitamins and "bulk" in excellent proportions.

Costs the same as ordinary brands. You alone lost when you accept a substitute.

Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. Your grocer has it; also Quaker Oats as you have always known them.

MRS. BOONE TO DIRECT THE DEPARTMENT OF ANTIQUES

Mrs. R. D. Boone, director of the department of antiques, relics and curios for the Central East Texas Fair, is planning to make this one of the most comprehensive and interesting of the women's exhibits. The display last year attracted the attention of all visitors, and since the exhibit this fall is to include in addition to the usual articles, old documents, and antique furniture, the chairman is arranging to have on view an increased number of beautiful and precious things.

In speaking of her plans for the exhibit, Mrs. Boone mentions that it is not too early to begin looking over treasured possessions with the view of entering them in the fair. Ample provision has been made to keep all entries under glass, and the chairman assures exhibitors that the best of care is to be taken every entry. Since many historic and beautiful heirlooms are to be found in the homes of Marshall and the surrounding country, Mrs. Boone expects to have a notable collection on display in her department.

paign for governor—broken proxy and government by proxy. He asserted that a man who would break his word with his friend, would break his oath and pledge to the people of Texas. He also charged that Pollard was the candidate of the Big Special Interests of Texas, and that if he were elected, Attorney General, this State would have an Attorney General by proxy, the proxy being some of the lawyers representing those interests.

Allred referred in his address to the recent attack made on him by Jim Ferguson in the Ferguson Forum, and to statements made by his opponent that he was ungrateful to Ferguson. He said there were two people in Texas who thought Jimmie Allred was ungrateful to Jim Ferguson; one was Jim Ferguson himself, and the other Claude Pollard, Allred said he thought Claude Pollard should be the last man to talk about anybody being ungrateful to Jim Ferguson, that Pollard had courted the support of Jim Ferguson all along, by remaining silent, and that Jim Ferguson got aggravated and gave the cut out of the bag, and gave Pollard his open support; that after getting Ferguson's support, Pollard was ungrateful for it and was trying to get loose from it, and couldn't. As proof of his contention that Pollard was the Ferguson candidate all along, Allred produced a dummy ballot which he said was put out in Galveston County by Ferguson supporters, which had Pollard's name unscratched.

Allred challenged Pollard to meet him in joint debate at Clisco Thursday night, following an address by Dan Moody Thursday afternoon. Both candidates for Attorney General have been invited to be there and debate. Allred said he had accepted the invitation.

Allred reviewed his record as District Attorney at Wichita Falls, during which time he prosecuted the famous Collier cases there.

Frank Collier, is now serving a term in the State penitentiary for murder, as a result of Allred's efforts, the candidate said.

Allred was introduced by Barry D. Greer, local business man, who spoke briefly of Allred's candidacy.

Although Mr. Greer had not met the candidate previously he spoke enthusiastically of his record and recommended him as the suitable candidate to succeed Dan Moody as Attorney General of Texas.

Although the speaking had not been widely advertised, a large crowd was in attendance.

Part of Revolt Equipment Seized

Los Angeles, Aug. 23.—Department of Justice Agents here today seized a truck believed to be part of a Mexican revolutionary movement said to have been headed by Gen. The truck was fitted with numerous seats and it was more than 100 pipe fittings, which the officials believed were destined to be made into bombs for use by rebel forces.

VALENTINO—

and gastric ulcers and accompanying local peritonitis.

Valentino came east several weeks ago to attend the Broadway premiere of his latest picture, and to bid farewell to his brother, who was returning to his home in Italy after a visit.

He collapsed in his apartment here a week ago Sunday, and was taken to the hospital, where an immediate operation was decided on. Local peritonitis set in shortly after the operation, and doctors announced that only his rugged constitution could save him from the dread infection becoming general, a condition which usually results in death. They said that the crisis would be passed in from 48 to 72 hours.

Valentino rallied and on last Wednesday reported definitely out of danger, barring further complications. The physicians ceased the regular issuance of bulletins regarding his condition. The statement that he had developed pleurisy followed the terse report of a relapse.

Thousands of messages of sympathy from personal friends of the actor and "gay" admirers flooded the hospital throughout his illness. Numbers of persons sought to gain entrance to his suite to wish him good luck in his fight, but even his closest friends were barred by the special guard set at the door. Aside from S. George Ullman, his manager, who accompanied him to the hospital, no one but the doctors and nurses were admitted to the sick room, until last night when Joseph Schenck, head of the United Artists Film Corporation, was admitted for a brief farewell visit.

Gifts ranging from flowers to "holy water" and religious relics were sent him by hundreds of persons from all over the country. The only statement made by the actor after he went to the hospital was one of thanks for the sympathy of his admirers.

During his illness, both of Valentino's former wives, Jean Ackers, screen actress, and Winifred Hudnut (Natcha), a dancer, were especially solicitous as to his condition and Pola Negri, film star to whom he had been reported engaged, called frequently by telephone from Los Angeles.

The cause of death was given officially as septic endocarditis, resulting from the double operation.

At the actor's bedside when he died were George S. Ullman, his manager, Father Edward F. Leonard, rector of the chapel of St. Malachi's and Dr. Harold D. Meekers, Dr. Paul E. Durham and Dr. G. Randolph Manning, his attending physicians.

Last rites of the Catholic church had been administered at 10 p. m. by Father Joseph M. Canegudo of the church of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary, who is from the small town in Italy where Valentino was born and spent his boyhood days.

Father Leonard had heard Valentino's confession, and had granted him absolution yesterday when his condition took a turn for the worse.

WAS SCREEN'S "PERFECT LOVER"

By the Associated Press.
Los Angeles, Aug. 23.—From a brass polisher and landscape gardener to the heights of screen stardom was the stride made by Rudolph Valentino, in his 13-day span of life in the United States.

The movie shiek was born in the Italian village of Castellaneta, May 6, 1896. His full name was Rudolph Alfonso Raffaello Pierre Filiberto Guglielmo di Valentina d'Alquerra. His mother was the daughter of a Peruvian doctor, Pierre Filiberto Barbieri. His father, Giovanni Guglielmo, was a captain of Italian cavalry and later a veterinary doctor.

When Valentino was 11 his father died, and the future screen lover matriculated at Dante Alighieri College. Finishing here at the age of 13, he entered the military college, del la Bapiana, at Perugia. From this school he was sent home because of breaking discipline, to see the king, who was visiting here.

Next he went to Venice to try for the naval examination, but failed there and returned home for a year. He next entered the military academy at Genoa, from which he was graduated at the age of 17 with the degree of doctor of agriculture.

Finding farm life little to liking, he drew all the legacy coming to him from his father and went to Paris. The Riviera and Monte Carlo followed quickly, and at last Paris again and bankruptcy. According to his own accounts, he sold his automobile and two Irish jumpers to pay debts, the remainder of which were settled by his mother.

America attracted him and he arrived in New York, Dec. 23, 1913, with $4,000 given him by his mother. He went out to learn English by taking private lessons. Between his studies and odd jobs he began to frequent cafes, where he took up dancing.

Drifting to Los Angeles, he met who gave him his first part in pictures as a "heavy" at $50 a week. After appearing in several pictures, he was selected by June Mathis, scenario writer, for the part of Julio in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," a role which started him on the road to fame.

In November, 1919, Valentino married Jean Ackers, screen actress, by whom he was divorced in January, 1922.

The film career went on apace, and Valentino became a matinee idol with his appearance in 1921 in "The Sheik," the first of a series of desert romances.

Before his divorce from Jean Ackers became final, Valentino married Winifred de Wolf Hudnut, dancer and adopted daughter of the cosmetic manufacturer, May 13, 1922, at Mexicali, Lower California. He was arrested and charged with bigamy and released on bond. Later the charge was dropped. The couple were remarried March 15, 1923, at Crown Point, Ind. A rift in the marriage appeared early in 1925, when Mrs. Valentino left for New York to return to the stage under the professional name, Natcha Hambova.

It was termed by the two a "trial separation." Mrs. Valentino later went to France, followed shortly by her husband. She obtained a divorce last December. Valentino returned here to make "The Son of the Sheik," his last picture.

His film career during his two marriages was anything but smooth sailing. Shortly after his divorce from Jean Ackers trouble arose with Famous Players-Lasky, but he made one more picture there, "The Young Rajah." Then he broke his contract with that organization. There followed a two-year absence from the screen.

He returned to Famous Players at the conclusion of two years to make "Monsieur Beaucaire" and "The Sainted Devil." "Cobra" was the product of his affiliation with the Ritz-Carlton Pictures, to which he aligned himself a short time afterward. Valentino broke with the Ritz-Carlton and signed with Joseph M. Schenck to make pictures for United Artists. His life was insured by the producer for a million dollars.

In March, 1926, announcement was made of his "trial engagement" to Pola Negri.

Valentino leaves a brother and sister in Italy. The brother, Alberto Guglielmi, an attorney, with his family, recently was a visitor at the star's home in Hollywood.

Prospects for Football Team Good at C. O. M.

Prospects for a winning team are considered for the College of Marshall this year, with the return of a number of last year's mainstays eager to get back on the job.

Jack Devore, guard, John Howard, half, Kessler, quarter, Doc Baccus, linebacker, and O. T. Smith, center, are all lined up for the 1938 squad. They saw service last year and turned in some nice playing for the mentor.

Frank Cressy, former Baylor football, baseball and basketball star, will pilot the C. O. M. aggregation this fall. He attended the school for coaches held early this summer by Coach Bridges of Baylor. He was halfback on the Baylor team two years ago, and is said to have been one of the outstanding players during his tenure.

Otis McGilvray, all-State half, and several other former Mavericks may attend the college this year and take part in the grid classics. In the meantime, it is expected that good material will be found out of East Texas high schools.

Arrangements already have been made for new equipment, and the training season will follow closely on the heels of the formal opening of the college.

Terra Haute, Ind., Aug. 23.—When Bud Taylor climbs through the ropes in Chicago Labor day to box Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, for the bantamweight championship he will have accomplished an ambition of years' standing.

Taylor has seen bantamweight champions come and go and has not a number of them—but not when they held the title. The local fighter has been persistently avoided by the crown wearers. Afterwards, with nothing at stake several of them have changed punches with Indiana's challenger and were beaten.

Many sports writers have proclaimed Taylor the unknown champion since Joe Lynch held the title several years ago. Lynch would not meet Taylor and finally was relieved of his championship by Abe Goldstein, a fellow New Yorker. Goldstein did not meet Taylor, and dropped the crown to Eddie Martin, of Brooklyn. On March 20, 1925, Rosenberg outpointed Martin in fifteen rounds in New York and won the championship.

Rosenberg and Taylor have boxed once, the Hoosier winning on points in twelve rounds, in 1923. When boxing was legalized in Illinois several months ago, every effort was made to bring Rosenberg and Taylor together in Chicago. The articles were ready to be signed when the match fell through. Taylor is at his best at 120 pounds. Two years ago, it looked as though he had reached the end.

MARSHALL, TEXAS

The following Editorial appeared in the Marshall Morning News on August 22, 1926, and it was so ably presented that we herewith reproduce it.

POTTER'S MONEY

A farmer named Potter lives up in Lamar County. He is a hard working, frugal man. He had saved his money through all the years, putting it away dollar by dollar until the time came when he would need it. By economical living he had saved $870. He locked this money up in his trunk. A few days since while he was working in his field a thief entered his home, broke the lock to the trunk and abstracted the last dollar of Potter's hard earned dollars.

Never a week passed that Texas papers do not chronicle some similar happening. There are men and women all over the State, men and women here in this county, who keep their money at home, thereby running the risk of having it stolen or burned up, because they are afraid to put it in the banks. And yet in all the history of this county not one person ever lost one dollar by a bank failure. The reason for this is that there has never been a bank failure in the county.

Yet thousands and thousands of dollars have been lost by people who keep their money outside of the banks. And another danger from keeping money in the home is that robbers are ever ready to kill when interfered with in their robberies. Putting money in the bank is not only insurance for your money but it makes your life safer.

It always becomes known in some way when a man keeps his money at home and there is always some man mean enough to rob, and if necessary kill to get that money. We know a well to do colored man in this county who puts his money in the bank. In talking with him one day he said: "Most of my neighbors know I have some little money and there are some of them mean enough to kill me for it. I use every means to let everybody know I use the banks. I always pay my bills with a check and keep my bank book on the table in our front room. Some of those who see it there may think I am trying to show off but that isn't my object at all. I want them all to know where I keep my money."

There is no reason why YOU should not deposit YOUR money in bank. We will be glad to have YOUR Bank Account, be it LARGE or SMALL.

Free Parking of Autos at Fair

Under arrangements completed by officials, traffic difficulties encountered at the Central East Texas Fair during the past two years will be averted, according to Secretary Bryan Blalock. Free parking of automobiles will be permitted, and instead of tickets being taken up at the gates as the automobiles enter, an entrance for those who go to the fair in cars will be provided. A fence is being constructed on the west side of the grounds to keep the cars outside the park. A gate is being constructed on the hilltop for the convenience of motorists.

Truck Growers and Poultry Men Should Organize and Study Their Problems

The truck growers offering fruits and vegetables on the Marshall market can improve their methods of production, grading, standardizing and packing and also learn how to more effectively serve the local merchants, restaurants and hotel says County Agent Kinnard. He goes on to state that a considerable volume of perishable and semi-perishable commodities are being brought into the local market by the grower and others that is entirely unnecessary if the growers would only become better acquainted with the needs, tastes and demands of the dealer and consumer. There is too much tendency for the trucker to complain of a "glut" in the local market of certain products when, in fact, the merchant is purchasing from more distant territory this very article. "A glut" does exist many times on a poorly grown, graded and prepared crop when the same article having better quality and offered in a more attractive container is winning favor and selling briskly in the local market.

He further states that the truck growers should have a few earnest strong men among them that would assume some leadership and undertake to set up a truck growers association for the purpose of having a powerful, tolerant organization with broad-visioned policies that will meet regularly and solve the numerous problems. Mr. Kinnard thinks that such an organization should be primarily an educational body that will get the assistance of the existing agencies in studying more modern methods of marketing and production. This group, he further says, should come in contact with the merchants and by getting together around the common board attempt to work out mutual difficulties and study just what each party can do to improve local conditions. In other words, he continues, let the grower find out what the grower must have to supply his trade and then try to persuade through the papers and growers should be willing to assure the merchant that he will guarantee reasonable service in shipments and quality. This organization could put on educational campaigns through the papers and inform the consumers about the merits of their products and have the people demanding that their merchants supply them with such goods. Many folks will think this is a pipe-dream and yet such things are being done all over the country and in every case the merchant and grower alike are profiting by such a move and a more mutual understanding results between the producer, middleman and ultimate consumer.

The poultry raiser can develop a similar organization, he goes on to say, and if they accomplished just the one thing of getting the people of Marshall to demand the infertile egg for home consumption they will have justified their efforts and increased the profits from the flocks. Supposed every housewife would be induced to buy only infertile eggs in the hot summer months, she would never experience the sad ailment of breaking several spoiled eggs in each dozen purchased. She would very readily see the it was to her financial advantage to pay five and ten cents per dozen more for eggs and this premium would immediately reflect back to the poultryman and he in turn would see the necessity of producing only infertile eggs. Educate the consumer and many of the problems of the grower and producer are solved. The secret of such successful marketing of any commodity can be summed up in four words, organize, standardize, advertise and merchandise.

Continued Dry Weather Brings Danger of Wood Fires

The present period of dry weather is daily increasing the danger of fire in the woods, according to C. B. Webster, Farm Forester for the State Forestry Department and the Extension Service of A. and M. College. The unusually large amount of vegetation this year makes the fire danger above normal. Woods and grass fires do untold damage each year in Harrison County, said Mr. Webster, as well as in all other parts of the piney woods country. These fires cost the land owner money by destroying young timber; by slowing up growth and lowering the sale value of trees that survive the fires; and by killing out the better forage grasses.

Most of the woods fires in Texas are due to human carelessness and are therefore preventable, says Mr. Webster. One Harrison County woods fire this year destroyed practically 200 cords of gin wood. The number of fence posts burned by woods fires annually has never been estimated. But as the following estimate and calculations show, the money burned up each year in this one item alone is astonishing: The total land area of Harrison County is approximately 354,000 acres. It is conservative to say that one fence post was destroyed by fire last year for every twenty acres of land in the county, or a total of 17,700 posts. If these posts are given a value of only 25 cents each the number lost was worth $4,425.

Timber is an important farm crop, continued Mr. Webster, and the first step in handling it properly is to keep out the fires. Prompt suppression is necessary for every one that starts. Woodlands should be posted with appropriate signs reminding the public of the damage fire does. Such signs can be secured from the Texas Forestry Department on application through the county agent.

Harrison County is developing a good forestry program. Citizens of this county should be proud of the fact, concluded Mr. Webster, that their is the first county in the state to develop such a program, and they should be glad to help in every way to make this program an outstanding success. And the first step toward success is to keep fires out of the woods.

Tells Secret of Kaiser's Mustache

By the Associated Press. Omaha, Aug. 23.—The secret of Kaiser Wilhelm's spiked effect mustache is explained by Carl Schropp of Omaha, who, as personal barber to the former emperor originated the famous tonsorial characteristic.

Schropp, who served many of Europe's royalty until "discovered" by the Kaiser, said: "First I would wet the mustache thoroughly. Then, with my fingers, I would push the hairs up at either end until they stood as you have seen them in pictures. Next I took a Schraubartinde, a mustache strap, made of fine silk, with hooks on end, and put it over the mustache and attach the hooks to the Kaiser's ears. I used my fingers and a fine comb to put the hairs just so; then with the mustache strap on it, I would wait for it to dry. After that the Kaiser's mustache would stay the way he wanted it for twenty-four hours."

ASSUMES DUTIES

Harrison First to Adopt Program

The Texas Forest News, monthly publication at College Station under the auspices of the State Forestry Department and Texas Forestry Association, in the last issue has the following to say about Harrison County adopting a forestry program:

Harrison County is the first Texas county to adopt a definite Forestry program. The program adopted is educational in character, emphasizing the need for growing timber on the unutilizable areas that are found on every farm, and also emphasizing strongly the need for keeping fire out of the woods. The County Agent is responsible for and has charge of all parts of the program. In all field work he is assisted by the Farm Forester. This field work includes educational motion pictures on various forestry subjects and actual field demonstrations in fire prevention and farm-forest management. The success of the program to date is very encouraging. By the end of the present year it is hoped that local forestry committees can be organized these committees to assist in drawing up the program for the coming year and also to take active leadership in all forestry activity in their respective communities.

Missionary To Tell Experiences

Missionary J. S. Yates, here on a furlough from the South Sea Islands, will tell of his experience with cannibals, and encounters with wild beasts, in connection with a motion picture and travelogue at the Odd Fellows Hall, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, it was announced yesterday.

An exhibit of native art in Java, and strange weapons and curios found in the islands of New Guinea and Sumatra, and taken from the cannibals, will also be displayed. The manners and customs of natives in the Orient will be related during the evening's entertainment.

Missionary Yates has spent thirteen years among natives in the South Sea Islands and Orient. He expects to return at the expiration of the furlough, in several weeks.

Mercury Slumps as Rain Appears

Relief from the heat wave which has held Marshall and environs in its grip for the last week, was felt yesterday afternoon when a half-inch rain fell over the county. The mercury humpty dumpled from 100 to 75 degrees in a short time, according to E. E. Lucas, government weather observer.

The mercury hovered around 94 degrees Sunday, Mr. Lucas said. Sweating residents, however, were disposed to think the temperature was higher at this time. The precipitation did not attain sufficient proportions to be injurious to crops, according to authentic reports.
